CODE

CL20020R

Coir Eko-Log round 30cm diameter x 2m

CL30020R

Arbogreen EKO Coir Logs are being used for a vast range of applications. Originally used for the protection of stream banks, these completely biodegradable products are now being used to arrest scouring and soil loss on slopes and in gullies. The coir fibre filling will absorb and hold moisture for tree and plant growth. The tough twisted fibre rope outer sheath will withstand hydraulic forces of surface cross flows and trap sediment.

COIR MESH

EKO Mesh Coir is a very durable, natural, anti-erosion barrier. The twisted fibre ropes of the mesh help protect the seeds and soil particles from being washed away. Over time as seeds and plants germinate and grow, the coir mesh biodegrades and enriches the soil.

CM400100 2m x 50m roll

JUTE MESH

EKO Jute Mesh is used for stabilising slopes, aids in weed control, and acts as a biodegradable mulch. The nature of jute fibres allows the soil to breathe and also absorbs rainfall increasing soil moisture retention.
